"Of course I came out! Do you suppose I'd had that child see that play, or that I realized what it was? As if she hadn't had enough of such wretched stuff already in her short life! Oh, Hattie, Hattie, I want that child to laugh, to sing, to dance, to play with the joy of living over again! That she is with me. I know so well what she has had, and what she will have—in that tomb. You know in six months she goes back—"
Mother saw me then, I know; for she stopped, and she looked at me with a moment's pause, and then she said, very fast, and pretty quick they went out into the hall again.
"Dear little Mother! Bless her old heart! Just she the ducky dear to want me to have all the good times possible now so as to make up for the six months I've got to be without Father? You see, she knows what it is to live with Father even better than I do.
"Well, I guess she doesn't dread it for me any more than I do for myself. Still, I'll have to be short, and I'm going to see them again—and I won't have to stay home much, only nights and meals, of course, and Father's always pretty busy with his stage and company and things. But of course next week I've got to go to school, and it can't be quite so jolly then. Well, I guess that's all for this time.
"About a month later, I didn't make a chapter of that."

MOTHERS, DO THIS—
When the Children Cough, Rub Musterole on Throats and Chests
No telling how soon the symptoms may develop into croup, or worse. And then when you're glad you have a jar of Musterole at hand to give prompt, sure relief. It does not blister. As first aid and a certain remedy, Musterole is excellent. Thousands of mothers know it. You should keep a jar in the house ready for instant use. It is the remedy for adults, too. Relieves sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, chilblains, frost-bites and colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).
50c and 55c jars, hospital size $2.00

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little green coated tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.
Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lumpy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c

Dinner Stories

Yesterday everything had been happy. Tonight they sat at the extreme end of the sofa, in unbroken silence.
Harold could not fathom the cause. Had he not written a poem in her honor?
"Mr. Holt," said Ethel at length.

"Do you know that the feet of the Statue of Liberty, in New York harbor, measure 16 feet 5 inches?"
"So I have heard."
"The statue is 35 feet around," she continued, giving him an icy stare. "The nose is 4 feet 6 inches long; the mouth is 3 feet 3 inches wide; the thickness of the head is 19 feet. Did you know these facts?"
"Yes."
"Then you will kindly explain," she demanded frigidly, "why you state in your poem that I remind you of the Statue of Liberty?"

"It is remarkable," said Mr. Grantley, "how mean some people are. I had with me on a fishing trip two friends, who evidently were familiar with my reputation as an angler."
"Before starting one of them made the following suggestion: 'We will agree that the first man that catches a fish must treat the crowd.'"
"I assented to this, and we started. Now, these two fellows both had a bite and were too mean to pull them up."

"I suppose you lost, then?" remarked the friend.
"Oh, no," replied Mr. Grantley. "I didn't have any bait on my hook!"

SHARON
(By Gazette Correspondent.)
Sharon.—The teachers of the public school entertained at a six o'clock dinner in the domestic science room on Friday evening. A four course dinner was prepared by the girls of the sophomore class and served by the Misses Darlene Noe, Eleanor Finn, Helen Hyde, Margaret Kline and Victoria Peterson. After the dinner a social hour was enjoyed. Those present besides the teachers were Mr. and Mrs. L. Jacobie, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Wilber and Mr. C. Denmore, R. Piper and E. Jacobie.

Sunday School.
Miss Helen Hyde entertained the members of the Sunday School class in a delightful manner at her home Friday evening. Sixteen young women were present. The evening was spent with games and singing. Refreshments were served.

Personal Items.
Will Winters, Delavan, was a business visitor in town Friday. Mr. and Mrs. H. Forsythe and Fay Board went to Beloit Friday evening and attended the theater. The Misses Eva and Thelma Hector went to Harvard Friday to visit over Sunday with their sister, Mrs. E. Blakely, and husband, Mrs. Fred Stanton, Chippewa Falls, came Friday to visit Mrs. Olive Douglas. J. A. Melhuizer, Whitewater, spent Friday in Sharon. The Misses Rachel Rath, Harvard, came Friday to visit their sister Mrs. Mary Miller. The Misses Anna Fredericks and Helen Pryor of Janesville came Friday evening to visit their parents over Sunday. Mrs. William Brosler and daughter Francis spent Friday in Janesville. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hutchinson returned Friday from a week's visit in Harvard with Mr. and Mrs. Bruckbauer. The Woman's Club met on Friday afternoon with Miss Della Wolcott and the following program given: Roll Call—Which new invention do you prize most, and why? Edison and his Electric Light. Wireless Telegraphy and Telephony—Mrs. Earl Siglow. Instrumental Music—Mrs. Harry Piper.

CHAUTAUQUA MAY BE BROUGHT HERE

Promotion of a seven day Chautauqua program here next summer may be undertaken by the Janesville Chamber of Commerce according to Mr. O. Holman, chamber manager. The proposition has the approval of A. J. Gibbons, president, and will be brought before the board of directors for their approval. The series if given would be under the Redpath circuit, the same organization which presented the Grignon quartet here early in the winter when the companies of the Winter Billie Post of the American Legion and which will send Elsie Baker, most popular American contralto, and company here on February 15. If the plan is approved, morning, afternoon and evening programs will be given. Headliners will be the famous light opera, "Pinafore," and "Nothing But the Truth," a comedy. In addition there would be groups of entertainers; individual stars of stage; and a long list of high class lecturers.

MR. MATHESON ON LEGISLATION IN 1921

vent plus legal matters are highly dangerous and insidious. There may be honest differences as to the advisability of placing certain statutes on our federal or state law books, but when the proposed enactments are adopted and become the law of the land, there should be no question as to obedience. I repeat, law enforcement is one of the outstanding requirements for a return to normal conditions.

There will be many educational problems to be carefully considered. There is our great university. Students in our vocational schools, our training schools, our high and grade schools, and our district schools, together with other educational interests of wide range and profound importance, are in our duty to maintain these educational institutions in such a way that they will be efficient and of high standard. As a state we want to do for our people the very best educational opportunities. We have started educational programs which, whether advisable or not at the time of initiation, we must now maintain; and we must not let them slip. We must provide for their natural growth and development.

As to state institutions. In addition to our educational institutions there are our mental, charitable, and other institutions whose claims for appropriations will be hard pressed by those responsible for their management. Students must be maintained in them, but we must provide for their natural growth and development.

our citizens I have in mind the laboring men with their claims for legislation. I am informed that Mr. Holt has already been prepared radically amending our present compensation statutes.

"There are the employers and those who furnish the capital to carry on our large enterprises in this state. They are concerned with the amount to be paid for taxes, with tax rates, combinations of men and women.

"I am not unmindful of the fact that, while we have wisely been stewed upon the women of our state political rights almost, if not quite, equal to the rights and privileges enjoyed by men, yet there will be legislation proposed especially with reference to benefits to be enjoyed by women in various places in society. Women will justly ask the legislature to consider certain proposals affecting the health, welfare, and happiness of women alone.

"There will be numerous other interests to be considered, and there will be a flood of proposed legislation. The legislator who gives conscientious attention to all of these bills will find his time fully occupied, and he will be convinced of the necessity of using wisely every moment of time."

Double Funeral Service.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Whitewater, Jan. 10.—Two thousand people packed the Normal gymnasium Sunday afternoon for the double funeral of Thane Savoy and Harold Hawes, both of whom lost their lives in France during the World war. A large escort from the American Legion accompanied the casket which carried the two flag-draped caskets. A chorus choir sang appropriate hymns.
The services in honor of Harold Hawes were conducted by the Rev.
James Gillet, Milwaukee, former pastor of St. Luke's Episcopal church here, of which the young soldier was a member.
Thane Savoy was a member of the Norwegian Lutheran church and the pastor of that church, the Rev. T.
Snoevit, conducted the services in his honor.
Both bodies were interred with military honors at Hillside.

Blackhawk Apartments

8% First Mortgage Gold Bonds

Dated Jan. 15, 1921. Due Serially Jan. 15, 1924-1936

Interest payable semi-annually on Jan. 15 and July 15, at the Bank of Southern Wisconsin, Janesville, Wisconsin. Coupon Bonds regis-terable as to principal in denominations of $500, $200 and $100, redeemable at $102, and in reverse numerical order.

R. A. Eckstein Company, Inc., Milwaukee, Trustee.

Security--

The Fire-proof Blackhawk Apartment Building on the west side of East Milwaukee St., near North East St., Janesville, Wis., three stories and basement, brick, stone, steel, reinforced concrete; a most substantial construction throughout containing 22 apartments for which we have already had forty applications. The interior arrangement is ideal for comfort, convenience and privacy; in keeping with the beautiful exterior. Everything is most modern.

Location--

Considered the finest for an apartment of this class. The hill district has been the most popular residence section in Janesville for several years. Modern apartments and private residences which have been erected in this location have not been able to meet the demand and this condition of shortage will prevail for years to come. The present increasing population of Janesville will always supply more than the required number of tenants for this apartment.

Valuation--Income--

Our appraisers have estimated the entire property valuation at $129,- 000 taking into consideration the present valuations, the cost of improvements and taking conservative estimate of earnings, having deducted a liberal estimate for running expenses. The total annual earnings are estimated to exceed $16,500, approximately four times the greatest annual interest charge before any of the bonds have been paid.

Sinking Funds and Other Safe Guards--

Provision has been made for monthly deposits of one-twelfth of the amount required annually for payment of interest of the maturing bonds. The semi-annual reduction of the debt after three years out of the earnings is one of the strongest safe-guards of this issue.
The title is guaranteed by R. A.
Eckstein Company, Inc., of Milwaukee; the trustee certifies the identity of each bond. Ample Fire insurance is deposited to protect the bond holder against fire loss.

Recommendation--

Having purchased these bonds with our own funds we are prepared to recommend them to investors in large or small amounts. Janesville people have opportunity through this issue to buy bonds secured by Janesville property—an at home investment.

CLOSED PULSES FOR CHARITY DRIVES.

It is announced by Charles A. Piez, who was chairman of the shipping board and head of many of the "drives" for charity, that such drives are at an end. Failure has marked almost every attempt at a drive for funds in the last year. Circus stunts fail utterly to attract or interest the public. The job of the professional campaigner for funds has come to an end. He was a new type growing out of the war activity and had a notion evidently, that the public would always stand without hitching and allow itself to be "frisked".

The good and meritorious causes have fallen with those which might invite question. There is a general feeling that the world, after two years of peace since the great war, should be in some position to shift for itself. Polish Relief, the Far East fund, the fund for the Chinese, the Inter-Church, Salvation Army, and some others, have never reached anything like the quotas asked. Later there has been no enthusiasm for the drive inaugurated under the widest advertising methods of the campaigners for the relief of the Central Europeans. Even the Red Cross has fallen far short of the quotas.

In the first place the public is tired to death of "drives." Organized charity can go only so far and then not for an indefinite period. Mr. Piez makes a good suggestion when he says that organized drives and campaigns should come to an end and that efforts to obtain money for certain definite objects be confined to those people particularly and closely interested. The pledging of a definite sum by them for the year will eliminate the drives. A tremendous amount of money has been spent on high salaries for the professional drive manager and his force and in postage and printing to "work" the newspapers for free publicity. That, too, will cease.

STOCK DIVIDENDS AND INCOME TAX.

Janesville will watch with interest the action of the supreme court in a case involving millions of dollars from an income tax law interpretation. In the case of the La Belle Iron Works, appellant, the contention is that iron ore lands are invested capital. In 16 years these lands increased in value from $150,000 to $1,000,000. The government agents have held that the difference is profit and should be so taxed. This increase or profit, the company added to its capital invested and claimed exemption of over a million dollars in taxes. Under the state income tax law a case quite similar has been decided in favor of the contention of increased capital not being taxable as profit when it appears in the form of stock dividends following the United States Steel decision. In the present case the increased capital was represented on the books of the company as a stock dividend issued since 1912, and it brings the question as to whether such a stock dividend is taxable, being a new form to the old question.

The company contends that the increase in the ore land value which afterward went to the stockholders as a dividend is similar to the increase in value of the farmer's herd, which when purchased, has in it a number of calves. But the government says that the invested capital is only that amount which is received in exchange for its shares of stock plus any paid in or earned surplus used in the business, and under this definition shares of stock given to the stockholders are represented in neither class and are purely the result of profit in the natural course and transaction of business.

If the government loses the case it will mean the additional loss of many millions in taxes, and the government will also have to return other millions to corporations already paid up.

THE NATION STILL SHORT OF HOUSES.

The building movement should proceed through 1921 with added momentum. There has never been a time when houses were more in demand or more needed than now. We do not notice it so acutely here in Janesville, nor have the conditions been severe since the fall slump, but the country over is feeling the housing shortage. Over-crowding in the larger cities has reached such a state that health authorities are alarmed. These conditions of unwholesome living add to the unrest and lawlessness and the problem is as sharply defined as last year when we viewed it from close quarters.

We are pleased to note that the Janesville Building and Loan Association shows a decided increase in its capital stock sold, and that it is slowly growing. Since the sagging in stocks and the slowing-up in opportunity to place high-priced loans, the stock of the building and loan association has become an attractive investment, insuring even in a time of financial distress, safety and security. We have room in Janesville for more houses even with the demand reduced as it is. There ought to be enough at least to insure the public against the profiteering in rooms and rents for houses and apartments that caused so much justifiable criticism last year, as well as to keep all available labor employed.

Uncle Sam has made a resolution to spend more time with his family and less skulking about the neighbors' homes this year.

Evidently Senator Pomeroy has made an error in thinking that he was elected president of the United States last November.

A Plan to House Us

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—Great corporations in every city to build houses for us in groups of at least 500, and to retain the management and administration of those houses as long as they last.

That is the solution of the housing problem which is proposed by John Hilder, manager of civic development for the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. He offers it as his personal opinion as to what should be done. But about 100 of the local chambers of commerce have already favored housing companies somewhat after this fashion, and the national chamber is preparing to hold a series of conferences, with Mr. Hilder as consulting specialist, to determine upon a national housing plan. So it may be safely guessed that the Chamber of Commerce of the United States will attempt to solve the housing problem by applying big-business organization and efficiency to it.

The move is significant. It seems to be the first organized effort to solve the housing problem in this country. It may be taken as the effort of American capital to meet its responsibility in this regard.

The housing problem is world-wide. In every country that engaged in the war, the building of dwellings practically ceased for two to four years. In England it was immediately recognized that private capital was not competent to handle the problem. It was neither prepared nor willing to do anything adequate. Neither could the British workman pay the rents which must be paid if capital is to get its interest and profit. Yet men and women were dying for lack of houses. The British Government decided that it was necessary to save the British people even if British capitalism suffered something of a setback in the process. Therefore the British Government proceeded to build houses. It did build and is building them by the thousand. It is renting them for less than they are worth. The measure is a measure of state socialism, of what is commonly dubbed socialism in this country. It is a body blow at private capital. It seems to have been the beginning of a general process of socialism in England. But it had to be done. Capital couldn't do the work, so government had to do it.

The same thing was true in this country during the war. Dwellings for war workers simply had to be had, at once and at reasonable prices. So government had to build them. But after the armistice the government housing corporation was quietly run out of business. It first demonstrated that houses for workmen can be made attractive and can be grouped into pretty villages, and that workmen appreciate such houses. This country does not face so serious a post-war housing problem as Great Britain. Yet it is more serious than you realize unless you are hunting an apartment. We are about a million and a quarter short of the number of houses we need in order to house our population as well as we did before the war. This means that there are at least four million more people in the United States than we have comfortable housing room for.

That is bad enough. But the worst of it is that nothing adequate is being done to remedy the situation. Capital has not met the emergency in this country any more than it did in England. And government has not even tried. The revolution against government ownership, control and initiative, which followed the war, made that impossible. We have therefore preserved intact our beloved system of private enterprise, but the said enterprise in the building trades has not met its self-imposed duty to the unhappy ways recently revealed in the New York investigations.

You think you see a good deal of building going on. Then consider the facts. For seven years before the war we built an average of 450,000 houses a year. In 1917 we built a good part of this number. In 1918 we built hardly any. In 1919 we built about 75,000. And in 1920 the total promises to be less than in 1919. Consider that last sentence. The housing situation so far is not getting better. It is getting worse. We are not failing to make up the shortage in houses; we are failing to keep up with the normal increase in the population. The housing situation will almost certainly be worse a year from now than it is today. Our building industry has fallen down on the job.

Of course you cannot blame the building industry as a unit. Costs are high. People won't build because they feel that if they wait a year or two they can build much cheaper. Contractors who build houses to sell find it hard to sell them. People cannot scrape up the money to make the initial payment. And the builder cannot afford to build houses to rent. He cannot scrape up enough money to keep himself going on that.

The whole thing is a fine illustration of the way the industrial system does not work. There is plenty of material. There is plenty of labor. There are several million people who need houses. And yet houses are not built. These magical forces of supply and demand upon which we so implicitly rely are simply not working.

Most of the houses you see going up are expensive houses. Most of them are the houses of men who made a stake in the war, and are now spending some of it. They do not care if it does cost a few thousand more. The modest house of seven or eight rooms, for the man who works for a salary, is in the very small numbers. And five or six room house, the house for the wage earner, is not being built at all. Furthermore, most of the houses being built for rent and for sale are being built of poor material. The woodwork and the hardware are of the cheapest kind. The construction, say men who know, is not of a kind calculated to last.

In this situation, you see the importance of any move that the Chamber of Commerce may make. It is up to somebody to make a move. From somewhere must come initiative and organization. So far as housing is concerned, American industry has fallen down. Let whoever claims the responsibility for it come forward and pick it up. If capital claims that it can serve the country's need for leadership, initiative, and organization in its industrial life, this is its chance to prove the fact, to gain and hold the country's confidence.

It is with some realization of this fact that the Chamber of Commerce sits down to frame a housing plan. Naturally it sees the solution of the problem in big-business organization. It points out that the building of houses is one of those industries which has to a great extent remained in the control of the "little fellow." Furthermore, the building of the house, the sale of it, and the administration of it, in case it is rented, have all developed upon different individuals or organizations. Responsibility is divided.

Mr. Hilder proposes in each town of good size several large building corporations. These corporations would buy land in large tracts, and build whole suburbs. They would seldom build less than 300 houses in a unit. That there would be great economy in such large-scale operations cannot be denied. Furthermore, Mr. Hilder would have these corporations retain the administration of the houses permanently. The occupants would be shareholders in the corporation rather than purchasers. In this way all the economy and efficiency of large-scale operation and large organization would be gained. These housing corporations employ the best architects, landscape gardeners and other specialists. They could make planned, artistic units of their suburbs, instead of hodgepodge growths.

Such a system would have all the disadvantages of large corporation control, as well as its advantages. The housing corporations in a given town would soon dominate the real estate situation. You would have to buy or rent from that housing corporation and at its prices. But corporation control is the system by which we live. The large corporation at least does this.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

THE HAPPY MAN.
If you would know a happy man,
Go find the fellow who
Has had a bout with trouble and
And just come smiling through.

The land is off his shoulders now,
Where yesterday he frowned
And swore there was no joy in life,
He laughs his way around.

He's done the very thing he thought
That he could never do,
His sin is shining bright today
And all his sins are blue.

He's stronger than he was before,
Should trouble come anew,
He'll know how much his strength can bear
And how much he can do.

Today he has the right to smile,
And he may really sing,
For he has conquered where he feared
To come to failure's sting.

Comparison has taught him, too,
The sweetest joys are those Which follow on the heels of care
To free us from our woes.

If you would meet a happy man,
Go find the fellow who
Has had a bout with trouble grim
And just come smiling through.

Who's Who Today

MRS. RALPH SMITH.
MRS. RALPH SMITH, who is expected to become minister of education for British Columbia, will bring to that office a great equipment of public experience. She has already served in the provincial parliament as member for Vancouver, and was re-elected lately. The first woman to hold office in a Canadian cabinet. Mrs. Smith's husband was prominent in public life and she herself has been active in public life. He was minister of finance in the provincial cabinet at the time of his death in Victoria in 1917. The pair moved into British Columbia in 1920. Mrs. Smith was born in Newcastle, England, and grew up as a miner. That was his occupation in his early career but he has since been a speaker, and for a time he preached on trial in Methodist pulpits. The miners elected him general secretary of the union at Nanaimo, and in 1908 he was elected president of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress.

He served on the Chinese and the British Columbia fisheries commissions. In 1907 he declined an appointment as agent for the Yukon. One of his chief subjects on the lecture platform was "The Right Relations Between Capital and Labor." He was labor representative in the house of commons of the United Kingdom in 1911.

In all these activities Mrs. Smith was his helpful and sympathetic comrade, thus unwidely preparing herself for the role of public life she has now assumed.

MORE AUTODE TOXICATION

In the last lecture on the subject of autode-toxication I made my usual assertion that there is no such thing as an autode-toxication so far as anybody is concerned. I have since been able to prove, and I followed this assertion up in my usual way by explaining that mere anxiety or worry over the future of the house to rent, as the future of the individual, which they should not attempt to reason here.

What between the life-long teaching of old Doctor Rank and his assurance and the (holistic) and one of our readers who first heard I suspected the symptoms and then sell him the dope therefore, and the specious, though all too plausible explanations of 57 varieties of modern medicine, the average individual must or guess—knowing, the public layman—harbors a more or less settled conviction that health, life, and happiness all hinge largely upon free and regular action of the bowels. There is actually a popular obsession that whatever else is done or not done in any illness it is always the proper thing to take a brisk cathartic. A lot of folks whose thoughts are not more than a millimeter deep think of physics as something that removes poisonous matter from the system or from the blood, whereas as it is, physics accomplishes any such feat.

New, please do not throw the paper down in disgust and please do not waste time in telling me how much I am wrong. You can't see why they tell me publish such idiotic stuff as this. It may seem idiotic, no doubt it may seem utterly unbecomingly to anyone who has had a little knowledge of the regulators, blood purifiers and such acid-mythology such as the alkalines and the neutral testimonies have always grounded. I am simply stating a fact. The purgative, physics or cathartic does not remove any poisonous or deleterious substance from the blood or the general system, merely it empties the bowels, the movement of the bowels. And here I wish to testify that the preliminary physics which has featured the treatment of so many acute illnesses and

Q. Who is called the Washington of South America? F. A. G.
A. This title has been given to Bolivar Y. Pantoja, a South American patriot who was called "The Liberator." An ardent advocate of liberty, he assisted Venezuela, New Granada (now Colombia), Peru and Bolivia in their early struggles for independence.

Q. Where is the River of Natural Ink and what is it? A. A. G.
A. The River of Natural Ink is located in Algeria. It is formed by a junction of two streams, one flowing from a region of ferrous soil, and the other draining a peat swamp. Upon meeting the acid of one combines with the iron of the other and forms true ink.

Q. What was the origin and meaning of the phrase "When Greek meets Greek"? E. A. G.
A. "When Greek meets Greek" is probably a perversion of the old familiar quotation "When Greeks meet Greeks, there is a tug of war," found in Act 4, Scene 2, "Alexander the Great," by Nathaniel Lee (1555-1622). By this phrase is meant that when one expert fighter meets another, the result is a vigorous action and the outcome so far as who will win is concerned is in doubt.

Q. Who invented compressed air? J. C. D.
A. The principle of compressed air was known to the ancients, having been experimented with by Hero, who lived from 251 to 211 B. C. The compressed air pump was invented by Otto von Guericke of Magdeburg, in 1654.

START DRIVE FOR GERMAN CHILDREN; 2 TOWNS GO OVER

With Footville and Hanover already having made their quotas of $250, respectively, and indications that they will go over their amounts, workers for the campaign to raise $4,000 in Janesville and to start the drive in full force. Other towns that will be solicited are Edgerton, Beaverdale and Orono.

Janesville has been divided into six districts with a chairman and several workers for each. It is proposed to enlist the sympathies of the local Red Cross. Arrangements have been made with the movie theatres to place boxes at the entrances to which contributions may be dropped. Money so collected will be turned over to the Red Cross as soon as plans are complete.

JOY IN SERVICE, IS BISHOP'S THEME

Upon the principles of unselfish joy in service, will the world be reconstructed after its six years of strife, and contention, said Bishop H. F. Post, Indianapolis, speaking before the members of the United Brethren church in the morning service yesterday. His topic was "Service," from the text "Whoever shall become great amongst you must be a servant."

This thought, he said, is the most pressing call of the age—to rouse the people of the church, as to the helpful relations of the world, to make them realize that they are saved, so that they may become servants of others. This service means joy in standing in the ranks of the best warriors of the world, he said, in a partnership with Christ, and with a certainty of victory.

"In this cause of life, liberty and love, toward a sinning world, should never cease to be said, 'and the joy of unselfish service should never grow dim.'"

Rev. E. H. Bechtolt, Readsburg, superintendent of the schools of this district, read the scripture lesson, and assisted in the service. Edward Ward sang a solo, and the choir of a dozen voices gave a patriotic number. Bechtolt spoke at the evening service.

JONES APPOINTED MAIL MESSENGER

Leland S. Jones received the appointment of mail messenger for the Janesville postoffice for 1921, coming from Janesville, Wis., and has been the messenger since the resignation in June of H. T. Spencer, now deceased. There were three applicants. The duties are delivered mail to and from the postoffice and trains.

MILK PRODUCERS TO ESTABLISH RECEIVING STATION IN EDGERTON

(City Gazette Correspondent.)
Edgerton. — A meeting of the Milk Producers' association was held Saturday afternoon at Library hall. Nearly 100 farmers were present and were addressed by Mr. Daily of the marketing association of Stoughton.

The question of establishing a receiving station for milk producers in this city was fully discussed and it was unanimously carried that a committee be appointed to take definite action. Arrangements have been made with J. J. Walsh to use a portion of this new building and carpenters are now at work making the necessary changes.

About 50 milk producers pledged their support and as some of the territory was not fully represented it is now certain that upwards of 100 farmers will patronize the project as soon as fully organized. The committee will arrange to patronize the best market available.

MOORE MAKES MAP SHOWING ROAD WORK

A complete county map showing in detail the county and state highways which were worked up during the past year in Rock county is being prepared for County Highway Commissioner Charles E. Moore. The map is to be fully detailed to be used in connection with the annual report of the highway commissioner during the coming county board meeting.

Thrift and You

"Passing the buck" is a great game but it never gets the "passer" anywhere. This is written to YOU today. Thrift means success. This does not mean the other fellow's thrift. It means your hustling, your saving, your planning. If you ever hope to get anything out of your job you will have to save. We do not ask you to save because we are a bank. We ask you to save because being in the banking business, we know the savers and we know they are the people who build up the community. Get in the worth-while class. Do it today.

MILTON JET. LOSES TWO OLD RESIDENTS

Milton Junction, Jan. 10.—Mrs. Philena Babcock Burdick, 94, and Richard Barnes, 88, long residents of the village, died at 8:30 o'clock last evening. Mrs. Burdick having been ill for several years, and Mr. Barnes for three weeks.

Mrs. Philena Babcock Burdick was born in Scott, Crawford county, N. Y., April 20, 1826. When 15 she came west with her parents, who settled in the town of 13rd. In 1882 she moved to Milton Junction, which had since been her residence. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Margaret Burdick, Milton Junction, and one grandson, Leon Burdick, Janesville.

Richard Barnes was born Aug. 4, 1832, in Kent, England. In 1851 the family came to America and settled in Onondaga county, N. Y. Mr. Barnes moved to Wisconsin in 1860 and in that same year was married to Mrs. Julia C. Barnes. He is survived by his wife and one son, Oliver, of Milton; a daughter, Mrs. Mary Barnett, preceded him in death.

No arrangements have been made for either funeral.

ALL-STARS DROP UNDER WOODSTOCK OFFENSE, 40-15

Janesville All-Stars met their toughest reverse of the season Saturday night when they were defeated by the "Purple Motors" of Woodstock, Ill., at Woodstock, 40-15. The team, representing the American Legion of that place, kept the Janesville boys busy at all times, and exhibited fine team work that was puzzling to the Stars.

Outplay All-Stars.
The Motors ran up a score of 12 to 0 before the Stars awakened. The Woodstock five specialized on long off-side shots and fast advancement of the ball. The Stars were not until the second quarter that they got working and in fact outplayed the enemy in that period.

The game became faster and Woodstock caused the Janesville lads to crack, allowing them only seven points, while they added 21. The Stars stay Fulton here next Saturday.

Score:

GREAT INFUX OF FAST HORSES FOR WISCONSIN TRACKS

Considerable comment is going the rounds of harness racing circles about the splendid outlook for the current season's meet. The success of the Sport of Kings have been exceptionally active at the sales during the past winter with the result that a large number of the best new stallions in Wisconsin stables. The beauty of it all is that the new horses are Wisconsin owned and will appear on Wisconsin tracks.

The outlook for a happy future for the Wisconsin Grand Circuit which takes in Janesville, Madison, Monroe and Watertown. It also looks good for the other tracks of the state and nearby circuits.

"We are going to have a great summer," said Charles Putnam, director of speed of the Janesville Park association. "Some very fine horses have been bought by Wisconsin men during the winter."

HARNESS MEN GATHER IN PHILLY CONVENTION

Philadelphia, Jan. 10.—Horsemen from many parts of the United States are assembled here for the annual convention of Grand Circuit Stables which opened today and will continue through tomorrow. Optimistic predictions were made for the 1921 light harness racing season. The rules and schedule committee met today, and it was expected the former would recommend a few changes. A dinner and theater party have been arranged for tonight.

MEET TO ARRANGE NATIONAL BOARD TO CONTROL ALL BOXING

New York, Jan. 10.—Representatives from 17 states where boxing is legalized, met here today to form a national board of control over the sport. Sessions will continue throughout Wednesday, during which time boxing in all its ramifications will be discussed.

Some of the tentative rules and regulations, understood to have been drawn up for adoption, call for a maximum prize of $15 for admission to championship bouts and $10 to contests in which no titles are at stake; compulsion for champions to defend their titles within reasonable intervals; and other reforms tending towards uniformity of control throughout the country.

Tentative plans dealing with the personnel and powers of the national body also provide for its composition of one representative from each state, with powers of final decision on important questions by majority vote.

RAG-TIME DOUBLES MEET AT WEST SIDE

Something new in the line of bowling tournaments is now going on at the West Side alley. "Rag-Time Doubles," the proprietor calls it. The meet runs for two weeks when the leaders cash in and then start over again for another two weeks, and continues in that fashion until the bowling season is over.

Any individual may bowl whenever he desires and no two men may link together twice in the same two weeks. Each bowler pays $1 to enter and the winner of each two weeks the money is divided.

Leaders now are Richards and Cornell who have made 1250. Cunningham and Cornell made 1242. The present record ends on the 15th.

PROPOSE NAMING SCHOOL AFTER RUTH

New York, Jan. 10.—Cardinal Gibbons proposed that the St. Mary's Industrial school of Baltimore, which was destroyed by fire, be replaced by the Ruth School for Dependent and Wayward Boys in honor of "Babe" Ruth, champion home-run hitter, who once attended the school.

Cardinal Gibbons made the proposal in a report to the board of directors of the Knights of Columbus, who had proposed that the new school be a memorial to the cardinal.

BIG CHANGES TO TAKE PLACE IN ORGANIZED BALL

Chicago, Jan. 10.—The completion of one of the most thorough house cleanings baseball has ever had is contemplated by club owners in the meetings scheduled here this week to reorganize the national agreement and the pact between the major leagues.

Besides the new understanding between the leagues, a new deal for the players is under consideration. President John Heydler, of the National league said today as part of the general reconstruction resulting from last fall's scandalous disclosures.

"There are many things that need to be changed," Mr. Heydler said, "so that they will fit in with the general principles of the new agreement between the major leagues and the minor leagues which is to be presented to the latter. It is likely that a new form of players contract will be drawn up, one that shall embody the new principles of baseball."

Minors Now Favor

"I can't say just what clauses may be inserted but something should be put in to aid in putting down evils that have infected the game in late years. Players, managers, league officials and everybody connected with the handling of the game must have instilled the ethical idea of the new agreement."

"It may be that a new set of rules will be drawn up for conducting the World's series in future as well as the distribution of the money for the series and other post-season games."

Sentiment among minor league leaders seems to have veered in favor of the proposed new national agreement according to reports today.

II NEW PATIENTS AT MERCY HOSPITAL

Patients at Mercy hospital admitted last night for treatment and operations are: George Sherman, 209 South Bluff street, for treatment this morning; Mrs. Bliza Lloyd, R. 2, Janesville, and Mrs. J. C. Jackson, 114 Galena street admitted yesterday for treatment.

Charles Stark, Janesville, admitted Thursday for treatment and Roy Hugin, Janesville, admitted yesterday for treatment. Other patients admitted for treatment are: Mrs. John Moahan, Beloit; Leroy Levenick, 22 Milwaukee street; Paulina Olson, 338 Academy street; Mrs. Koller, 298 Riverside street; S. P. Madden, Edgerton; and Orval Sherbondy, Albany.

Clarence Wolahan, 441 Madison street, one of the stars of the Janesville High school football team, who underwent a serious operation at the hospital, was removed to his home this afternoon in an improved condition.

NEGRO BANDITS HELD FOR MURDER, RESULT OF HOLD-UP

Milwaukee, Jan. 10.—Detectives left today for the state penitentiary at Waupun to bring back to trial for murder "Reddy" Reynolds, Clarence Joseph, and Jesse Watson, confessed negro bandits. They were sentenced to 25, 12, and 15 years, respectively, when they pleaded guilty to five holdups.

The judge's order followed the recent death of Albert Raskin, whose skull was fractured during a holdup of a local store here December 12. George Hoes, 17 years old, fourth member of the gang, serving 15 years in Green Bay reformatory, will be brought here for trial on the same charge, the court ruled.

Washington—Better trade conditions between the U. S. and South America and the Far East cannot be expected until low rates of exchange and labor conditions in foreign countries have been improved.

ATTACKED PASTOR RECOVERS RAPIDLY

Former Brodhead Man to Live Despite Blows of His Two Assaultants.

The Rev. A. C. Jacobs, former Brodhead resident and Salvation army worker in Milwaukee, will recover from wounds suffered when assaulted in Council Bluffs last week by gangsters who threatened the pastor with dire harm because of his preaching against vice in the town.

Relatives of Rev. Jacobs residing in Brodhead have returned and today reported his recovery is but a matter of a few days and medical attention. The father of Rev. Mr. Jacobs, the Rev. Varney Jacobs, now in Buckley, Ill., preached in Brodhead. A sister of the injured man, Mrs. Llewellyn Fleck, resides in Brodhead at the present time.

Three Plots to 'Get' Him

Returning relatives declare that the gangsters succeeded in their attempt to maltreat the pastor after three unsuccessful plots to injure him. Rev. Mr. Jacobs, together with Rev. D. E. Cleveland have a number of churches in Council Bluffs through which they have carried on a public fight against their traffic in booze. Rev. Mr. Cleveland was attacked on October 25, near the same spot the gangsters lured the former Brodhead man and assaulted him.

Both received a series of threatening anonymous letters. During October the Rev. Mr. Cleveland received a call on the telephone regarding a piece of property in which the church was interested. The voice was that of a woman and requested he come to a certain address.

Driving out to a sparsely settled spot the minister slowed down because of a truck ahead of him. As he did two men jumped on the running board of the pastor's machine and brutally attacked him. The pastor fought with them but was straggled behind the car and knocked unconscious. On regaining his senses, he found himself in a desperate situation, the car being on fire and his hands and feet bound tight. He managed to roll from the seat of the car, clear from the flames and was aided by Boy Scouts who heard his cries for aid, while playing in a cave nearby. The minister suffered severe injuries, enough to be sent to the hospital for a week. His machine was burned to the frame.

Threatened before. On three different occasions the Rev. Mr. Jacobs has been pursued but he managed to escape men and women who threatened him. On January 3 he received a telephone call, apparently from a woman, relaying that a man was dying at 32nd street, requesting the minister come to the address. He started in a sedan automobile to the address.

LUMBER INTERESTS FIX PRICE, CHARGE

Different Sections Unite in National Association to Study Market.

Washington, Jan. 10.—An extensive investigation into the activities of lumber manufacturers is being made by the department of justice, with the assistance of federal trade commission. This is disclosed in a report sent to congress by the committee in connection with the inquiry being conducted by the senate committee on housing and reconstruction.

The report contains a mass of correspondence said to have passed between officials of several regional associations relating to prices and many suggestions, but it contains no conclusions.

It is set out that the lumber manufacturers in the approximately 10 different lumber sections of the country have organized regional organizations which have formed the National Lumber Manufacturers' association with headquarters at Chicago.

Various activities listed. "Each regional association," the report says, "complies statistical, on production, market conditions in general, sales reports, showing actual prices obtained for lumber, and establishes and maintains uniform grading rules and a uniform cost account system. Various other activities are undertaken to accomplish the purpose of their organization."

The regional associations listed as constituting the national association, include the Western Pine Manufacturers' association, Northern Lumber and Hardwood Manufacturers' association, Northern Pine Manufacturers' association, and the Michigan Hardwood Manufacturers' association.

Some boys while wandering along the high ground across Saunders creek recently discovered a gunny-sack stuffed in a badger hole in the ground, and on removing the sack it was found to be the resting place of several bottles of moonshine whiskey. The discovery resulted in the police making a search.

Washington—Cotton advanced prior to Jan. 1 amounted to 11,551,250 running bales, the cotton bureau announced. Last year to Jan. 1, shipments aggregated 10,008,920 running bales.

The pastor remembers a knife flashing in the hands of one of his assailants. He managed to escape the men and started running for the automobile. He managed to reach the residence of Walter Anderson, a friend, where he staggered up to the front steps. He is now being cared for at the Anderson residence and will recover from the wounds.

Edgerton

Frank Russell, Correspondent.

Edgerton.—Police authorities, by the orders of Mayor Leary, served notice on all places of amusement such as clear stores and pool rooms that gambling must stop at once.

Peter Edgerton has bought the Neil Mason farm, just outside of the city limits, on the Newville road. In the transaction Mr. Mason takes over in part payment a small place of five acres in the city, which is well improved. Mr. Mason will move on to a large farm in the town of Albion, which was recently purchased by his father and himself.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Dunn of Delavan moved from La Crosse, where he appears in Judge Landis' court in the interests of several clients charged with infraction of the prohibition law.

Mrs. Herbie Merriell spent the week-end with friends in Stouten, and Mrs. Heger, who live on Washington street, Sunday evening. A feature of the event was the presence of four brothers of Mrs. Heger and their families, together with several friends and neighbors. Several pieces of china were given to the host and hostess.

Work has been commenced on the plastering of the Mason temple, and as the mill work has been ordered for some time there is hope of its early completion. The annual banquet of the Edgerton fire department will be held Wednesday evening at the K. P. hall. This annual affair includes the wives and sweethearts of the members. Rabbit pie will be the feature of the supper.

Some boys while wandering along the high ground across Saunders creek recently discovered a gunny-sack stuffed in a badger hole in the ground, and on removing the sack it was found to be the resting place of several bottles of moonshine whiskey. The discovery resulted in the police making a search.

The salaries of the board have been fixed and the meeting will be the medium through which amounts to meet the salary expenses will be considered.

TO DECIDE FATE OF AGENT NEXT WEEK

Will be Point of Battle When Supervisors Gather Here Jan. 18.

Making the climax to the fight over the resolution to abolish the county agricultural agent, the Rock county board of supervisors will hold an adjourned session on Tuesday afternoon, January 18. The business of the county for 1920 will be brought before this meeting in the annual reports of the county commissioners and the county officers.

Then the board will sweep the decks in preparation for its policies for 1921.

More than half the members of the county board are sitting rather nervously on the fence regarding reelection in April.

Threaten Changes. Practically each supervisor has been canvassed by board members for the purpose of determining how he will cast his ballot on the county agent question during the January meeting. Hence the county board has threatened at various times to cause the defeat of any supervisor who would not agree to vote for rescinding the previous county agent resolution. Hence the agent fight is going to occupy the spotlight during the coming meeting.

It is fully expected there will be additional petitions for franchise from the Southern Wisconsin Power company to extend electric power lines through various townships. During the last meeting of the board action was taken to curb the power in the destruction of trees by strict provisions in the franchise.

Protect Trees. These branch lines, it is said, will provide electric power to a large number of farmers around Janesville. There is no tendency on the part of the supervisors to refuse the company a franchise, but, rather, to take careful steps to safeguard the rights of the county and provide against the destruction of property and especially in the matter of fruit trees.

FLOUR AND FEED
FARMERS PLEASE NOTICE—We have taken over the feed business and machinery of L. E. Case, located on Park St. and will conduct the business along the same lines.
We will do custom grinding for farmers and will also carry full line of feeds, etc. at the mill. Prices and quality have not to be right and we will try and make a share of our business. Call us up if you wish to buy or sell.
